Q

This is the search page. The user will enter the game they want to search for. The search term is checked in the database to see if a match or if any partial matches exist. If the search query exists in the database then it will populate the results with a picture of the game; otherwise, no results are displayed. An example of an empty search is shown above. A result of a matching search query is shown below.

Fallout 4

Outer Wilds

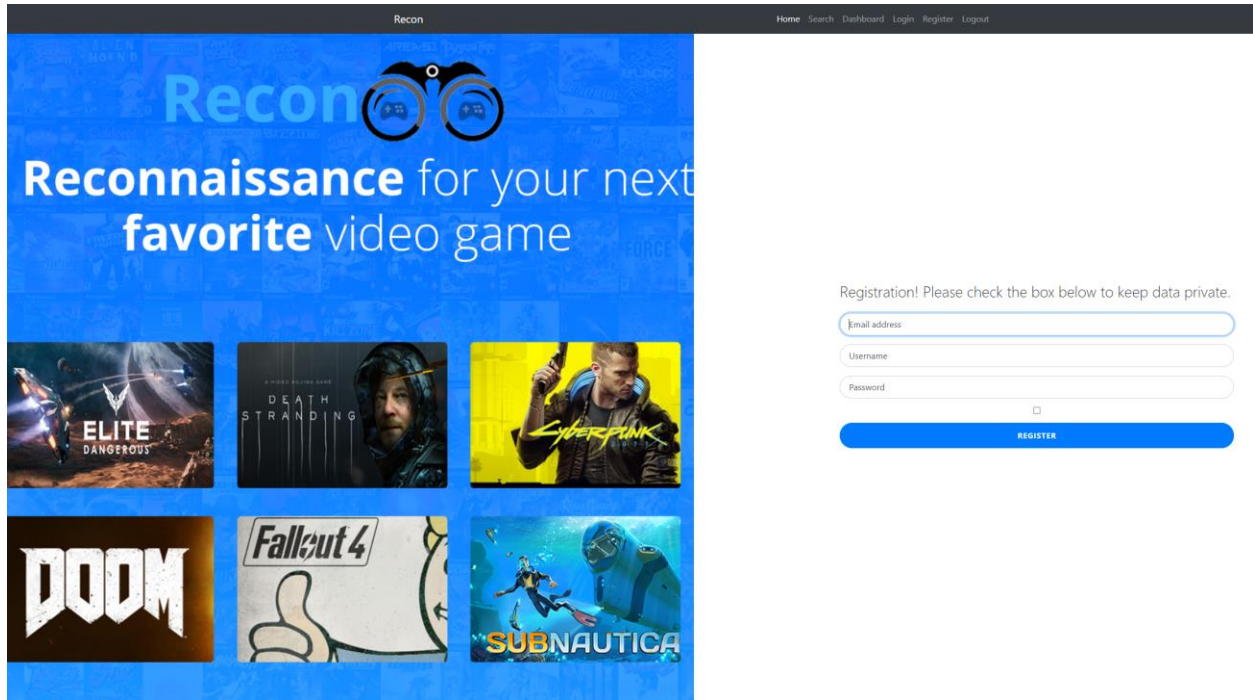

Crossout

Login Page

The login page allows the user to enter their account credentials, namely their email address and password. After they click sign-in, they will be redirected to the home page and will be able to access the dashboard as well as adding games to their Wishlist and leaving reviews. The user also has the option to click Forgot Password.

REGISTER

This is the user registration page. Here the user is asked to enter an email address, username, password, and to select a checkbox if they want their information to be displayed privately. This means their reviews will be posted as “Anonymous” for any game they review. The password must be at least 8 characters and include a lowercase, uppercase character, and a number.

Welcome, testingUpdate.

This game is super fun but super frustrating!

Wishlist

The user dashboard displays the reviews the user has left as well as images for games they have added to their wishlist.
